THE ARCTIC CALAMITY.

The Grand Jury made a presentment, this merning, in the U. S. Circuit Court, in the case of the Arctic, setting forth the facts relative to the less of that vessel, and recommending the passage of a law rendering it obligatory upon commanders of all passenger ships to carry a sufficiency of boats for the safety of every person on board.

Each boat to be under the command of a speeific officer, with a specific crew. Each member of the crew to have his place in the boat designated by a mark upon some prominent part of his person. Every passenger, too, on paying his fare, to be furnished with a ticket entitling him to a certain place in a particular boat.

The presentment size takes into consideration the loss of the packet ship New Era, and the necessity for adequate life-saving apparatus upon our coasts. It concludes by asking for directions from the Court. At 12 o'clock on Monday the Court will comply with the request as set forth.

FIRE IN THE THIRD-AV. At 2 o clock Saturday morning a fire brok out in the fancy store No. 257 Third av- The flames were extinguished by some citizens. Damage slight. FIRE IN STANTON ST.

At 10 | c clock the same morning, a fire broke out in the building No. 274 Stanton-st., occupied on the first floor by the family of Theodore Hague: second floor by Mr. Carell; third floor by Mr. Tilley. The fire originated in the third story, and was occasioned by the heat from a stove in the apartment igniting some light materal that lay near it.

The firmen were early on the ground, and soon extinguished the flames not, however, before the fureiture in the room was nearly destrayed. The budging was not much injured, except by water. Less of Ir. Filley, about $200; loss of Mr. Cornell by water $100; loss of Mr. Hayne, about $100, by Oater. No insurance.

TEE HEALTH OF MR. MASON.

"The indisposition of Mr. Mason still wears a doubtful aspect. He is partially parlytic and but rarely rational. It is possible, from present indications that he may recover from this attack; but if he should be so fortunate, he will undoubtedly feel an unwillingness longer to burden himself with the cares of office, and will resign and return home the moment be is sufficiently recovered to perform the journey. A very deep sympathy is manifested in Paris at this unfortunate affliction, more especially as it follows so closely | Insured for $4,000 in the Citizens' Insurance Co. upon the accident to Mr. Mason's son in the United States.

QUEEN VICTORIA AND THE SUFFERING SOLDIERS.

Perhaps, since the commencement of the campaign, no document has found its way to the public so gratifying in its mature as that which we here subjoin. The earnest expression of Her Majesty's anxiety for the brave men who have been wounded in the service of the country, will have the best effect in the army; it will censole the unfortunate who have already suffered, and animate to increased exertion. army, it will console the infortunate who have al-ready suffered, and animate to incressed exertion their comrades who have bitherto escaped the acci-dents of war.

Mrs. Herbert, by whom it was transmitted to Miss

"WINDSOR CASTLE, Dec. 6, 1854. "Would you tell Mrs. Herbert that I begged she would let me see frequently the accounts she receives from Miss Nightingale or Mrs. Bracebridge, as I hear ne details of the wounded, the I see so many from officers, &c., about the battle field, and naturally the former interest me more than any one.

'Let Mrs. Herbert also know that I wish Miss Nightingale and the ladies would tell these poor noble woulded and sick men that No ONE takes a warmer interest, or feels more for their sufferings, or admires their courage and bereism MORE than their Queen. Day and night she thinks of her beloved troops. So does the Prince.

Beg Mrs. Herbert to communicate these my words to those ladies, as I know that our sympathy is much valued by these noble fellows. "VICTORIA"

ANOTHER FIRE IN THE BOWERT-ALDERMAN HOWARD BADLY INJURED. - At a quarter to 40' lock esterday morning, a fire broke out in a small frame shed in the rear of No. 54 Bowery, which was formerly the resort of a gang of thieves known as "Side "Pockets." The shed was located about the center of the block, and the only access to it was through a narrow alley on Elizabeth-st. The flames spread with great rapidity, and communicated to the frame building No. 54 Bowery, occupied by C. A. Baldwin as a Camphene and Lamp store and dwelling.

Thence the flames communicated to the fol-lewing buildings: No. 54j, occupied by L. Salashin, as a fancy store and dwelling: No. 56, occupied by Charges J. Cook, cigar manufacturer; No. 56], owned and occupied by Norman Cook, manufacturer of umbrellss and parasols: No. 521, occupied by Elias Zacharias, as a clothing store and dwelling; No. 52, occupied by E. Skatts Franks, optician.

The firemen of the district were promptly on the ground, and, notwithstanding the fatigue they had suffered at the fire No. 98 Bowery, set to work with a right good will, and, by their united exertions, soon subdued the flames. The buildings, though not entirely destroyed, were rendered untenantable. The rear per ion of No. 54 fell with a loud crash, injuring several of the firemea. Alderman Howard, one of the Amist ant Edgineers, was caught among the burning rubbish as it fell, and completely covered, excepting his head. He was, with great difficulty, extricated from his perilous situation by the firemennot, however, before his cap, overcost, and other clething were partially burned. Mr. Howard sus tained several severe bruises about the body, but his injuries are not considered serious.

Mr. Baldwin and his family, occupants of No. 54, were obliged to make their escape by the front windows, in their night clothes. Mr. B. and his wife, with two of their daughters, slept in the second-story. All egrees by the stairways having been cut off by the fire, Mr. Baldwin lowered his wife from the second-story upon the roof of the show window in the store. Here she swurg by her hands autil the fire-men came to her assistance. The two daughters were rescued in the same manner. Another child seed out of the third-story window, from one to another, and safely landed on the sidewalk. family were then conducted to a neighbor's house, where their wants were attended to. The occupants of the other houses also escaped without injury. The losses and insurances are as follows, as near as we

Loss of Mr. Baldwin, about $3,500; insured $1,000 in the Stuyvesant, $500 in the Rensselaer, and $500 in the North River Insurance Companies. His furniture was mostly destroyed, and the greater part of his stock, consisting of lamps, girandoles, &c., broken. No. 54 was owned by Norman Cook, who is insured $750 in the North River Ins. Co.

Loss of L. Salashin, on furniture and goods, about $6,000; fully insured. No. 54j is owned by Norman Cock, who is insured $750 in the Park Ins. Co.

Loss of Chas. J. Cook about $500. The greater part of his stock was saved by the firemen; insured $1,950 in the Aster Ins. Co.

Loss of Norman Cook, about $3,000; most of his stock was saved. Insured $3,300 in the Citizens', and $3,000 in the Stuy vesant Ins. Companies. The building is insured $1,000 in the National Ins. Co.

Loss of Zacharias about $2,500; insured $400 in the Citizens' Insurance Company on furniture, and $2,000 on stock in the Astor Insurance Co. The furniture was entirely destroyed. The loss of Mr. Franks is not very heavy, as nearly all of his stock The rear of No. 50, occupied by J. H. & W. K.

Cort, stove manufacturers, was slightly damaged by water. This firm are insured $2,000 in the Broadway, $2,000 in the Citizens', and $1,000 in the Mechanics' and Traders' Insurance Companies.

So rapid was the progress of the flames when the fire first broke out, that apprehensions were enter-tained for the safety of the Bowery Theater, but, through the exertions of the firemen, the fire was confined to the buildings above named. The origin of the fire is unknown, although it is supposed to have been caused by some of the light cinders from the fire at No. 28 Bowery falling upon the roof of the shed, which, being dry, ignited easily.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS OF THE FIRE NOS. 94, 96

AND 98 HOWERY.

Loss of Mr. Halladay on his furniture and stock, about $3,000. Insured $500 on his furniture, and $1,500 on stock, in the Lorillard Insurance Company.

Loss of Mr. Hyatt about $8,000. Insured for $7,000, in the St. Marks, Hamilton, and Excelsion Insurance Cos. Less of Z. M. Rhode about $1,800 on his stock and furniture. Partially insured in the Astor Insurance Loss of Mr. Simmons about $250. Insured for

was partially destroyed, and rendered untenantable.

The building occupied by Mr. Hyatt, was owned by Mrs. Brewer and the Bank of Schenectady. Iusured, but what amount we could not learn.

MOST HORRIBLE AND DISTRESSING TRAGEDY.

From The Dubaque Express and Herald.

A most thrilling and awful tragedy occurred in the vicinity of Cascade, on Friday night. Robert McGinty, residing some two miles this side of Cascade, went to the house of his father-in law, Mr. Clark, residing a short distance beyond Cascade, and commenced an assault upon his wife, who had gone there to escape his ill-treatment, when the father, Mr. Clark, interferred, by drawing a pistol from his pocket, and merce an assault apreciate the second interest an assault apreciate to escape his ill-treatment, when the father, Mr. Clark, interfered, by drawing a pistol from his pocket, and informing McGinty that he would shoot him if he did not desist. McGinty seized a flat-iron and knocked the old man down, took the pistol from him, and shot him. During the time that this reacounter was going on between McGinty and Clark, the wife escaped to a neighbor's house; but fearing pursuit from her demon husband, she left the house and went into the woods, and there secreted herself. McGinty followed to the house where the wife had retreated and not finding her there, swore he would shoot the woman of the house if she did not inform him of the place of concealment of his wife. The woman alarmed for her safety informed McGinty the direction his wife had taken. Bent on blood he pursued and found her concealed in the bushes, and, horrible to relate, cut her head nearly off. He then went to his own house and placing the muzzle of the pistol under his chin, discharged it, the ball passing out of his right cheek. Finding this effort to destroy life ineffectual, he discharged three balls into his abdones, and then attempted to sever his wind-pipe by describes herife source his thout. life ineffectual, he discharged three balls into his abdomen, and then attempted to sever his wind-pipe by drawing a knife across his threat. He was found, some time during Friday night, at his own house, in bed and still alive, by some men from Cascade, in pursuit of him. As they entered the house, he pulled the clothes over his head. They placed him in a wagon and started for Cascade, but before they reached there, life had left the carcase of this departate wretch. McGinty and his wife are both dead, and it is doubtful whether Clark, will survive. McGinty is the same desperado who, a short time since, bit a man's nose off, in the lower part of the city, and was bound over to appear at the next Ferm of the District Court.

The English papers received by the Canada make no mention of the illness of Mr. Mason, our Minister to Paris, and we hear of no private advices on the subject.

Invixo's Residence.—The house at "Sunryside," in which Washington Irving resides, is one he built some three years sgo. It is about two and a haif miles below Tarrytowa, directly on the banks of the Hudson. It is built on the site of the "Van Tassel" Hisse. In fact, the new structure includes a portion of the old walls. At an earlier day it was called Wolfert's Roost—Wolfert Acker being one of the Privy Councillors of the renowned Peter Stuvessant. Afterward it came into the possession of the Van Tastels. It was here that the quilting party and dance teek place, so graphically described in the Leginds of Sleepy Hollow. It was here that the unfortunate Ichabed Crare and Brow Bows unequivacally met, both being suitors for the hand and heart of Kate Van Tassel. Your readers will recall the amusing in cidents of that story, and especially the last appearance of Ichabed Crane. A weather cock, of misers has appearance is perchet on the gable and of the son bonding. It was cone the organization of the conme a presence, to perchet on the gamesend of the Stadt House of New York, in the time of the old Dutch rule. The house is surrounded by trees—some wild and some planted by Irving. The buildings are rearly covered with vines and creepers. The Fun pet flower and the Ivy vine are the most conspicuous of them. The ivy, that grows unusually rank, has a peculiar interest. It was brought from Me rose Abox, near Aboxistord, Scottland, some tweety versage. It was brought by a Mrs. Trenwick, an intensite friend of Mr. Irving, and planted at "Suony-"side" by her own fair hands. This lady was a Miss Jean Jeffrey. Her lather was a minister, and it was of this lovely girl, then about 17 that Burns wrate two beautiful stanzas, among the gens of his poetry. [Deriot Tobane.
